President's Message

Welcome to the "Dog Days of Summer" which, thankfully, really haven't barked as loudly as they did last year at this time!

First, I want to thank each and every one of you for your thoughts and prayers for me and my family during the first couple of weeks of July, in the passing of my mom. Thank you, too, for the cards and e-mails. When Lynn and I got back from California it was a blessing to sit and read the cards and e-mails of support and care.

While I was unable to attend the day meeting, I understand that it was a success and that we have some great Christmas cookie recipes on the website. The evening meeting allowed another opportunity for shopping and getting in the Christmas and holiday spirit.

I want to give a heads-up to the committee chairs for our night meeting in August. Joany Orsi has a great program planned and it will require the greater part of our evening. We plan on keeping the business meeting as brief as possible by keeping our reports as brief as possible. I promise to keep my comments to myself so as not to impede our progress! HA HA HA

We have some exciting programs coming up, so keep an eye on the website for information. Also, start planning what projects you want to bring to our next Saturday Stitch-In. A whole day of just fabric, fellowship, fun, food and friendship makes it a day that I look forward to!

As a reminder, please think about a way you would like to serve in the guild for 2014. Keep the foot to the foot pedal and the creativity flowing.

CRQG Program News

Our August 8 day meeting is a couching class taught by Robin Meyer. She has a handout posted on our website of what is needed for the class. A couching foot for your machine would help make this project easier for you. Bring your lunch that day since we plan to sew until about 2:00 pm.

On Saturday, August 17, we have our last workshop of the year. Jan Cunningham is teaching her special appliqué technique in a 6 hour class. The class costs $10 and is limited to 20 people. Contact Annie Kellum if you want to sign up for the class. On the day of the class, there will be a kit you will need to purchase from Jan for an additional $5. We plan to be in the ballroom and start setting up by 9:30, and be finished around 3:30 pm. Bring your lunch and remember that we will have access to the kitchen. Jan does the invisible appliqué technique, the Sharon Schamber way.

Our night meeting on August 22 will be a "Fabric Choosing Party". It will be filled with fun, games, and a sneak peak at some of the latest fabric collections.

At the September 12 day meeting, Sarah Sorenson will be teaching us her technique for raw edge applique. The focus of the class will be skill building techniques. We'll also discuss the basics of raw edge appliqué and take the fear out of trying new stitches whether you have only a few stitches to select from or hundreds. Please see our website for a list of materials needed for this class.

Finally, just a quick reminder: At our October day meeting we will be doing the "Circle of Nine" class. It will be more fun and rewarding if you have already made your 9 quilt blocks ahead of time. The handout along with the links to two free patterns is posted on our website.

This Month's Blog(s)

Annemarie's Anecdotes
(annemariesanecdotes.blogspot.com)

This site is a treat! Annemarie includes project instructions with pictures and step-by-step directions, archives, cute stories, etc. I definitely bookmarked this one!

---

New Features: This Month's Blog(s) and Helpful Internet Sites. These features were accidental additions. Completing this newsletter, I had a couple of holes to fill. This space was bigger than usual for an extra sewing quote and thinking of Denise Allee's contribution in last month's issue about how UFO's happen, I typed "quilting anecdotes" into the Google search box. Several sites popped up and when I clicked on today's featured blog, a idea quickly formed about blogs, followed by memories of earlier this year and the web links presented by Linda Jones and Broach Winsley. TADA...two new features were born! This is a group effort, not just mine, so feel free to email me with blogs or sites you've found helpful. Enjoy! -Vickie P.
